

SETTLE MATTER
AS TO BANK SUIT

Counsel Agree Upon Terms and Judge Waddill Enters Final Order.

WILL NOT NAME RECEIVER

Protect Stockholders and Pay
Depositors in Southern Interstate Bank in Full.

In the United States Circuit Court yesterday afternoon, Judge Waddill presiding, the contending parties in the case of Wyckoff and others vs. the Southern Interstate Bank and others reached an amicable settlement. The arrangement was brought about by reason of the fact that the former stockholders in the Provident Savings Bank, who exchanged their stock for the stock of the Southern Interstate Bank when the latter institution was merged with the former, agreed that the stockholders of the Southern Interstate Bank, who purchased stock after its organization, should be preferred in the distribution of the assets. Under this agreement it is believed that the stockholders in the Southern Interstate Bank, who did not hold stock in the Provident Savings Bank will be paid out in full. Under the agreement the bank of Commerce and Trusts is to carry out its contract to the extent of assuming the payment to depositors and creditors of said Southern Interstate Bank. By consent no receiver was appointed or injunction granted.

Exchange Pass Books.
The depositors in the Southern Interstate Bank may go to the Bank of Commerce and Trusts to-morrow morning and exchange their pass books for new pass books in the Bank of Commerce and Trusts, and will thereafter be depositors in the latter bank, with full right to check on their accounts if they may desire to do so. This is a happy solution of the litigation, as the Bank of Commerce and Trusts, which assumes the obligations to the depositors, is a strong financial institution, managed by some of the largest and best financiers of the city, reporting in its statement of May 20, 1907, total resources amounting to more than $100,000. It is believed by some parties connected with this litigation that the new stockholders in the Southern Interstate Bank will be paid in full.

In this litigation the complainant stockholders were represented by Mr. John A. Lamb, and the Southern Interstate Bank by Messrs. Hill Montague and John Garland Pollard, while the Bank of Commerce and Trusts was represented by Mr. Emmett Seaton.

What Counsel Say.
In speaking of the suit last night, Mr. John A. Lamb, counsel for the plaintiffs, said: "Under the agreement entered into, and according to the decree entered by the court, the new stockholders of the Southern Interstate Bank must be paid before the former stockholders of the Provident Savings Bank can receive a cent. After the stockholders of the Provident Savings Bank consented to this arrangement I consented to ask for the appointment of a receiver, as I am of the opinion that all the new stockholders of the Southern Interstate Bank will now be paid in full. The new stockholders of the Southern Interstate Bank had stock of the latter for a value of $100,000."

BREWERS FILE PROTEST.
Resent Order Ousting Them From the Federation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 1.—In the absence of President Compers, Secretary Morrison, of the American Federation of Labor, today made public his compers' announcement of the revocation of the charter of the International Union of Brewery Workers, because of its refusal to accept the terms proposed by the Federation. The action will affect all the brewery workers' unions throughout the country, comprising a membership of about 45,000.

CINCINNATI, June 1.—The secretary of the United Brewery Workers, when he heard of the revocation of their charter, said:
"We protest against being ousted. The ouster is illegal, unconstitutional and violates all of the rights guaranteed to members of the Federation. At the coming convention we will appeal from the decision."

PACIFIC SQUADRON
WON MOST OF PRIZES

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 1.—It was decided at the Navy Department today that the battleship Illinois should be awarded the battleship trophy for superiority in gunnery. The cruiser Boston won the trophy for vessels of her class; the Princeton won the gunboat trophy, and the Preble the torpedo boat trophy. This gives to the Pacific squadron three out of the four prizes, and all of the vessels in the squadron qualified as "star ships," in that they made more than eighty-five per cent. of the score of the best ship of their class.

FRANCE HELPLESS
IN FACE OF STRIKE

Government Unable to Restore Service to Neighboring Ports.

PARIS, June 1.—The Cabinet met today and discussed the maritime strike at length. The measures taken by Marine Minister Thompson to insure the dispatch of mails to the colonies by transports and to maintain communication by mail to Mediterranean ports by means of torpedo boat destroyers and torpedo boats were approved. Other measures were decided upon by the ministers to be put in practice in case the strike is prolonged, but their nature was not announced when the meeting adjourned.

The situation is very serious. French shipping is paralyzed, and unless there is an immediate settlement of the dispute many industries will be compelled to shut down and thousands of workmen in other branches of trade will be thrown into enforced idleness. The strike to-day was extended to Dunkirk, Calais, Boulogne, Gravelines, Bardeux and other ports, which were not affected yesterday, and the tie-up is now complete everywhere in France, Algeria and Tunis. The commercial interests are crying out against the so-called "tyranny of the labor organizations," and against the government for not being able to meet the strike demands.

In order not to remain entirely passive, some of the navigation companies took action against the strikers to-day. Formal charges of desertion were made against nearly 2,000 officers, engineers, seamen and others who have abandoned their ships, and under the decree of 1892 they are subject to heavy penalties.

Office Talks by
"The Office Boy"

A bird in the hand beats two pairs. Pa was kicking about some mining stock a friend persuaded him to buy. It turned out to be a gold mine. And now pa says a gold mine is a lobster, and the lobster holds the sack. I guess as long as gold mining with a pen and a little fancy pen can be done to be such a profitable industry, a lot of fellows who write a pretty fair hand don't see any good in having a gold mine. They will pass the pick over to the fellow who invests and start a new prospectus. There is one thing about buying goods at this store—there is no possible chance for you to get any lobster stock here. Take it in Serges. The mills are running night and day, trying to make enough blue and gray serges to supply the demand, but they can't do it. As a result of this serges are running up all the time, and the Serge Suit we used to sell for $15 costs us $15 now to lay down. If it's a fast day and all wool, what do we do? Sell you a cheaper grade and tell you it's as good as you ever bought? or do we tell you that a full, fine, fast, and lasting suit in a supply last season before the upward movement set in? That wouldn't be this season's style, would it? No. We have no lobster tale to hand to any one. We tell you frankly anything we think you are entitled to know about the market or our methods of buying and selling. We are forced to sell these suits on a smaller margin of profit, preferring to do this rather than cheapen the quality standard, but we don't talk about this, because we guarantee everything that leaves this store.

Gallant Tennessee Veteran Resents Offensive Epithets to Comrades.

An interesting, not to say sensational, incident of the reunion became known to a few persons yesterday. According to the story a prominent Tennessee veteran, Mr. Rush Pearson, figured as the hero of the affair. According to the story, Mr. Pearson and several old soldiers were in a store on Broad Street Friday night, and a New Yorker, whose name was not learned, was also there. The New Yorker was evidently drinking, and began making himself disagreeable, cursing and abusing even more offensive epithets to Confederate soldiers in general. Finally, Mr. Pearson, becoming disgusted, approached the offensive Northerner, and catching him by one ear with one hand, with the other soundly slapped his jaws, and rebuked him for his offensive language and gratuitous insults. The man did not resent the slap. The conclusion of the incident was the expression of commendation and appreciation of Comrade Pearson's act by a North Carolina veteran who witnessed the incident. Approaching the manly Tennesseean, the Carolinian drew a gold ring from his own finger and slipped it on one of Mr. Pearson's fingers, with the wish that every time he looked at it he would recall the incident.

At the hour when The Times-Dispatch heard of the matter it was impossible to locate Mr. Pearson. He was a fourteen-year-old soldier of Forrest's command when he entered

Mrs. Mary V. Baber Drives Off
Burglar, Who Attempted to Shoot Her.

Mrs. Mary V. Baber, a widow living at No. 1087 North Twenty-sixth Street, had an unusually exciting experience last night a little after 10 o'clock, when she discovered a negro man in her house, evidently intent on burglary.

The negro saw that he was cornered and drew a pistol to shoot Mrs. Baber. Mrs. Baber, however, did not lose her presence of mind. She made a rush for the intruder, and grabbing hold of his pistol, managed to deflect the weapon, so that it could not be used against her. Both struggled for the possession of the revolver, and finally the negro dragged himself out into the yard, with Mrs. Baber still hanging on to the pistol. Outside her cries attracted the attention of neighbors, and Mr. Charles Cannon and others rushed to her rescue. The negro, however, broke away and made his escape in the darkness.

The man was black, wore a dark coat and light trousers, was of medium height and weighed about 150 pounds. He had not been caught up to a late hour last night, though the police were put immediately on his trail.
